Additionally, teachers will explore reading comprehension strategies to support all readers in learning this genre.

37969 Self Regulation in the Classroom (Online Book Study)

Date(s): September 5, 2016

Location: Hamilton County ESC/Online Location

Presenter(s): Nicole Dietrich

Audience: Teachers, Instructional Leaders, Instructional Coaches

Fee: $59.00

To succeed in school, students need more than subject area knowledge—they must learn how to learn. Self-regulation, an executive functioning skill, describes the ways that students focus attention on achieving success. Self-regulated learners find personal value in learning, develop effective study habits, welcome challenges, seek help, and use failure as a learning tool. This six-week book study makes the process of developing self-regulation as easy as ABC: Affect (how you feel), Behavior (what you do), and Cognition (how you think). Start the year off right by teaching students to balance these three elements to build motivation, resilience, and college and career readiness.

Tim Knight: The "R" Factor - Maximize the One Thing You Can Control

Date(s): November 8, 2016

Time: 8:30 AM - 3:30 PM

Location: Receptions - Fairfield

Presenter(s): Tim Knight

Fee: $149.00

The R Factor immediately equips leaders with tools and skills to produce results. Using the simple but powerful framework of  $E + R = O$  (Events + Response = Outcome), The R Factor teaches leaders how to "Manage the R." Leadership is a constant flow of events. Success is not determined by the events you experience but how you choose to manage the R. The skills and tools discussed will assist you and your leadership team in developing high performing organizations.
